

We offer libraries the world's largest, searchable database of full-text books from over 130 leading academic, professional and trade publishers. With ebrarian for Libraries, an unlimited number of patrons can simultaneously access our growing collection of more than 13,000 titles – the majority of which were published within the last two years. While the retail value of ebrary's database is more than $255,000, ebrary charges a highly affordable flat rate based on library size and type.

The ebrarian for Libraries database includes the most current and complete collections of books available today in a number of key subject areas including Business & Economics, Computers & Technology, Education, Humanities (History, Philosophy, Literary Criticism, Biography), and Social & Behavioral Sciences.

Our growing roster of publishing partners includes the world's leading academic, professional, and trade publishers such as Cambridge University Press, Elsevier Science, Greenwood Publishing Group, Harvard University Press, John Wiley & Sons, The McGraw-Hill Companies, Palgrave Macmillan, Penguin Putnam, Princeton University Press, Random House Inc, The World Bank, Taylor & Francis Group, Yale University Press, and many others.

EBRARIAN FOR LIBRARIES PRICING

ebrary charges an affordable, annual subscription fee based on library type and size (FTE). In order to compensate our publishing partners for providing us with high-value content, our pricing structure is two-fold:

- Libraries pay an annual license fee based on FTE for ebrary's technology.
- In addition, libraries pay an annual fee based on FTE for accessing content + unlimited copying and printing.

NEW — SPECIAL PRICING FOR SMALLER LIBRARIES

Smaller libraries of all types can now subscribe to the ebrarian service for an annual flat rate of $2,000. See below for details.

LIBRARY TYPE	SIZE	LICENSE FEE		ACCESS/PRINT/COPY FEE
